WHAT'S HAPPENING

ASUMC Youth and Young Adult Travel to Robeson County

The Youth and Young Adults, accompanied by Pastor Robin Hynicka and Marge Donnelly, returned safely from their Mission Trip to North Carolina. For the last eight years, ASUMC Youth have traveled to Lumberton and Pembroke NC to work alongside local leaders on various improvement projects. The picture above shows our group meeting for Dinner at the local UMC church after a long day with the UM Disaster Response. This year they helped restore a home of an elderly couple whose house was destroyed in last year's Hurricane Matthew and the flooding that ensued. ASUMC Youth are so close to this NC community they ask for your help. Many homes are still in need of repair in this impoverished area. Let's show our youth that we support their efforts by giving to the relief fund. Pastor Robin has set a stretch goal of $8,000; we have just over $5,800 so far. Please use the special offering envelope inserted in the bulletin or give online on our web page. Checks should be made out to Arch Street UMC with the words Flood Relief on the memo line. Thank you for your generosity.

Wednesday evening, Aug. 16th, POWER convened a community response to show solidarity with justice-seekers in Charlottesville, VA. Nearly 3,000 people gathered at Rodeph Shalom at 7pm and marched to Arch Street UMC. Along the way, marchers heard speeches by community leaders on topics related to public school funding, police brutality, immigration justice and raising the minimum wage.

The overall theme for the march and rally was “Unmasking White Supremacy.” Over 1000 in the march entered the church for the rally and the largest part of the crowd filled both lanes of Broad St. An outdoor public address system tied into the church’s system allowed the music, prayers and speeches going on inside to be broadcast outside.

The speeches highlighted how white supremacy has an impact on POWER’s campaigns and engaged the crowd in taking action to address educational apartheid, economic exploitation and mass incarceration.

One of the most powerful moments in the event was when Javier, who is in Sanctuary at ASUMC, addressed those gathered and told them that he is standing strong not only for his own family but for future generations of immigrants. The ovation was deafening and the sacred nature of the whole event was self-evident. After, utilizing several social media applications to communicate the demands for State Senator Eichelberger to set a hearing date on fair and full funding for Pennsylvania Schools, for City Council President Clarke to endorse a living wage provision for city contract workers and for Mayor Kenney to fund and empower the Police Review Board to investigate police misconduct, the 3000 justice-seekers dispersed.

Betsy, Wilhelmina, Dottie, and Nancy went to an exciting Action Team meeting on August 8th and we want to share it with you. Briefly, POWER is developing a 5-year strategic plan to attract funding and keep our efforts focused. The first step was for each strategy team to draft a 1-year plan. We heard those presentations and gave feedback. The teams will now refine their plans for presentation at the September meeting. Here is what they are proposing:

Education – In time for the 2018/19 school year: (1) pass a new state law to distribute 100% of school funding through the Fair Funding Formula; (2) dissolve the SRC and return control of city schools to Philadelphia.

Economic Dignity – (1) Enact a Twenty-first Century Minimum Wage of $15/hour for city contractors and subcontractors; (2) get PECO’s commitment to source 20% of its energy from local renewable sources by 2025.

Live Free – End cash bail. This would reduce Philadelphia’s jail population by two-thirds and end the devastation caused to individuals and families when a poor person is unable to make even a modest cash bail and loses his or her job and home while waiting for a trial date.

This is a bold, prophetic vision for changing entrenched laws and practices that hurt some of our most vulnerable communities and neighbors. Stay tuned for ways you can help in this important work—and start by joining us at the September 12th Action Team meeting!

You can read the full strategic plans at the bulletin board in the chapel lobby or ask Nancy Megley for a copy. And of course, if you want to get involved in this work, you can contact the POWER office (215-232-7697, info@powerphiladelphia.org) or speak directly with Betsy Connor (215-232-7186, betsyfconnor@gmail.com), Nancy Megley (215-574-8320, nmegley@msn.com), or Wilhelmina Young (thecatalyst212@yahoo.com, 215-227-4034).

Statement by Bishop Peggy Johnson on the tragic weekend events in Charlottesville, Virginia August 11, 2017

Bishop Peggy A. Johnson released a powerful statement called, “Our Terrorism: Fears Within, Fightings Without” on August 13th. In this response to the racial violence and white supremacy in Charlottesville, the Bishop speaks to the terror and hate driven acts seen this past weekend and lately throughout the world. She reminds us that although the white nationalist groups displayed power through outrageous fear mongering, below the surface exists an internal world of weakness and inferiority. Bishop Johnson goes on to optimistically note that: “Meanwhile, memorials to paragons of the slave-holding Confederacy disappear, as God’s beloved community comes more clearly into view.” She then reflects on the strife seen this past weekend, and speaks out against any righteous indignation or division that can occur in our church community, asking us all to engage in spiritual work.

“We must celebrate and find ways to enhance our marvelous diversity. This is slow and heart-searching, heart-changing work. The "terrorism within" us is deep-seated and can only be cleansed by the renewing power of the Holy Spirit.”
